apply(ies) to use the Material designated as the Destination Profiles from the Lonely Planet website: <http://www.lonelyplanet.com/destinations/>, subject to the following understandings, terms, and conditions. If they are not met, this license automatically becomes null and void, requiring you to cease using and remove any Lonely Planet content immediately. These understandings, terms and conditions apply equally to all or to part of the Material.

1. The Material may be used only for research and development and education purposes and may not be used in any commercial manner.
2. Access to the Material shall be limited to students and staff working directly on INEX. Your Organisation is responsible for ensuring the Material is not used for any other purpose or by any other person. If INEX becomes aware of any misuse of the Material by INEX participants, it will immediately notify Lonely Planet, revoke access to the Material to that participant, and instruct the participant to immediately delete copies of the Material from its servers.
3. Copyright in the Material is owned by Lonely Planet Publications<sup>1</sup>. Lonely Planet should be acknowledged in any publications or papers based on research using the Material. Please forward a copy of any publication or paper to Lonely Planet Publications once available.
4. The Lonely Planet logo may not be used without express written permission.
5. This permission is given for a period of 2 years from the date of June 20, 2005.
6. No fee is required.
7. Lonely Planet disclaims and excludes any implied warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and all other warranties or representations of any nature.
